

Substance Abuse Prevention Skills Training (SAPST)

SAPST is key to building the workforce capacity of the state and tribes.

- Introduces state-of-the-art concepts and knowledge essential to delivering effective, evidence-based substance abuse prevention.
- Develop skills needed to apply this information to daily work.
- Detailed guidance for implementing each of the five steps of SAMSHA’s Strategic Prevention Framework (assessment, capacity building, planning, implementation and evaluation).

What is the Substance Abuse Prevention Skills Training?

- Foundational course of study in substance abuse prevention.
- Innovative training that blends a five-hour, self-paced online module and followed by a four-day/26-hour interactive, in-person training.
- For entry-level prevention practitioners working in states, jurisdictions, tribes and communities; also appropriate for professionals working in related fields.

What does the SAPST prepare practitioners to do?

- Address substance abuse prevention in the context of behavioral health.
- Improve practice by developing a comprehensive approach to prevention guided by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration’s (SAMHSA) Strategic Prevention Framework.
- Reduce behavioral health disparities by identifying the needs of vulnerable populations and improving cultural competency.
- Sustain prevention by collaborating effectively across sectors to address shared risk factors and improve the health and well-being of communities in a cohesive way.
